Web Enhancement and Public Relations Office (WEPRO)

Web Enhancement and Public Relations Office (WEPRO) was founded in October 2013 with the chief focus on enhancing the college web materials, besides maintaining viable public relations. In a bid to enhance Loyola's presence in cyberspace, the website was, as a first step, remodeled and made user friendly. Official accounts on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube have been created. In addition, it also organizes press meets for key events and programmes of the college. More importantly, it connects with Loyola family on a regular basis. Crisp news bytes that relay college-related information over the Public Address System are prepared. Loyola Insider & Loyola Academic Newsletter (LAN) have been envisaged to record significant academic experiences and accomplishments of the college and take them to the stakeholders of higher education. Finally, seminars and workshops are conducted on regular basis to train staff and students to excel in all these ventures.
